Golden Moments

When the seniors graduate from Laurel they never actually leave. The GOLDEN MOMENTS that they enjoyed during their last year here will always help them relive those days long passed. The Prom, Graduation, and the Senior Dinner Dance are rated at the top of their list.

The GOLDEN MOMENTS depicted on these pages belong to the Senior Class of '62. They will help recall the night of the Prom, when everything had to be perfect; hair styled, gowns just right, and dinner jackets spotless. The Dinner Dance and anticipation of Graduation, and the sadness that was shared by all when the graduation ceremonies were completed.

The remaining portion of this book is dedicated to the Senior Class of '63 and the GOLDEN MOMENTS they enjoyed.

Harvest Ball

By the time fall arrives the students at Laurel are again becoming acquainted with school life. The Harvest Ball and Homecoming are two events which speed up this regeneration.

The first dance of the school year was the annual Harvest Ball, sponsored by the Sophomore Class. Jean Tonder, as queen, and Larry Sniezek, as king, reigned over the evening's festivities.

Then it was Homecoming time --our football team added a GOLDEN MOMENT with a victory over Karns City. Glamor for the occasion was provided by Jean Tonder and her court.

Seated: Mr. Jesse Hunt, Mr. Wendell Dean, Mr. Walter Pearl. Standing: Mr. Russell McClelland, Mr. Theodore Jameson, Mr. U. S. Dean, and Mr. Thomas Allen.

The educational needs of Laurel School District's younger generation rested in the able hands of the school board. The citizens assumed the responsibility.

Faculty

As we trod down our paths of life sometimes even we need direction. There are many guides that we could follow. The church, parents, and yes, teachers are all guide posts pointing in the right direction. During the twelve most important years of our lives our teachers had the responsibility of directing us toward the right road. When the seniors of Laurel graduate and look back to their GOLDEN MOMENTS they will realize the importance of a dedicated faculty.

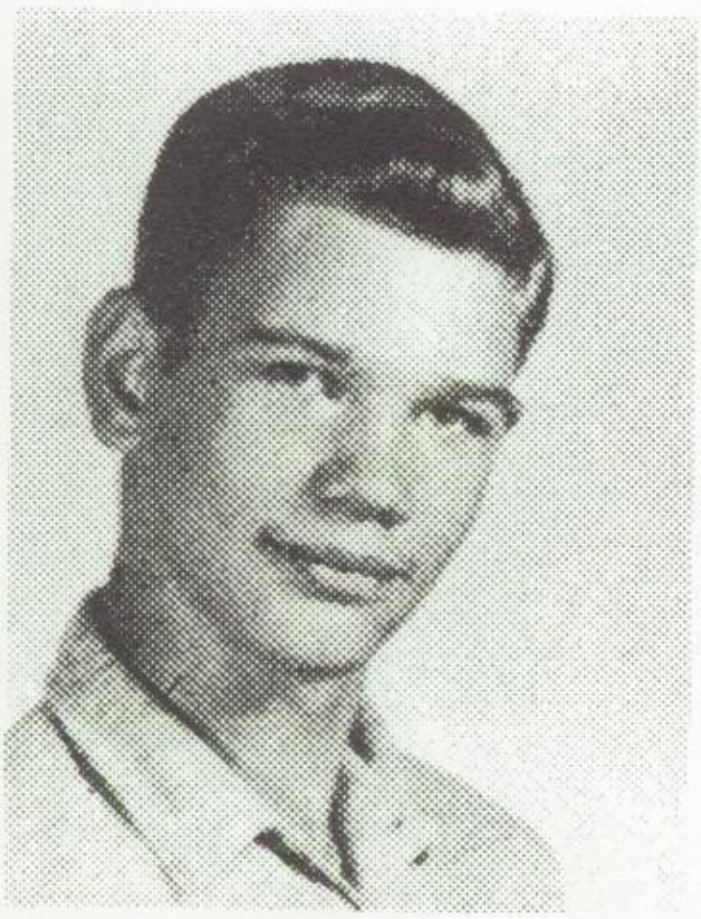
In Memoriam



CHARLES PHILIP COPPER

March 1, 1945 August 19, 1961

The Senior Class was deeply touched by the untimely death of one of its classmates, Charles Copper.

They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old:
Age shall not weary them,
nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and
in the morning
We will remember them.

For the Fallen, Laurence Binyon

Hello my friends!

I will always remember the school year 1962-1963 at Laurel. My real home is in Oslo, Norway, where I will return to school next year. I plan to become a secretary if I am successful. I will owe much credit to Mr. Owens of the business department and all of the other teachers at Laurel High School. Thanks many times for your friendship.

Every assembly will be conducted under the supervision of the Council. The proceeds from the coat check

Junior Play

Things began to jump at Clayton Moore's home when Great Uncle Clyde, a wealthy old desert rat, arrived with the announcement that he was going to die on Monday. Aunt Marguerite and Uncle Reginald plan to get the most out of Uncle Clyde's will.

Jennifer Moore acted as peacemaker during many disagreements that followed. Uncle Clyde hired Louie and Mollie to act as criminals and proved himself the supreme pacifier when he finally brought peace between Reginald and Clayton's families including the four children: Cynthia, Betty, Ginger, and Jack.

If he is a man, ye need have no fear!

The Commecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court dealt with the adventure of a Yankee from Connecticut who found himself thrown back into the middle ages. He could not believe it at first, thinking that he was in an insane asylum. But he was soon convinced that he was faced with a death sentence handed down from King Arthur, and his ingenuity came immediately to the fore. By predicting an eclipse of the sun, he immediately became the idol of the kingdom. His power became great; even Merlin, the court magician, plotted against him. However, the Yankee built up a complete twentieth century industry in short order and kept the knights at the court baffled by his magic.

In King Arthur's Court
